

Welcome to Lakshmibai College

India, one of the oldest civilizations has a tradition of rich and unique system of education handed over from one generation to another. The teacher and the student, placed in the system, evaluated each other, without any fear and further enriched the Teaching-Learning paradigm registering a substantial contribution to the knowledge economy. The process of acquiring knowledge was based on joint efforts of teachers and students. The students were known by the performance of their teachers and teachers were known vice versa. The teachers and students, while working together created a symphony and consequently a peaceful world, for which they aspired. The purpose of Education was to help a person to grow his consciousness and reach higher levels of inquiry, turning inside and to connect with higher consciousness for liberation of the soul.
