

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

2016-17

Honourable Chief Guest, Justice Vijender Jain, our esteemed Guest of Honour; Mr. Baldeo Bhai Sharma, Chairman, National Book Trust; distinguished guests, colleagues and young friends, Good Morning!

It gives me immense pleasure to welcome you all to the 52nd Annual Day of our college. We are indeed privileged to have Hon'ble Justice Vijender Jain as our Chief Guest, whose commitment to socio-legal reforms all through a long and distinguished legal career has been an inspiration to us all. He has served as Chief Justice of the Punjab and Haryana High Court and has spearheaded major judicial and legal reforms in these states. His name has been associated with several landmark judgements and he also enjoys the distinction of being one of the few Indian judges whose judgements have been cited in foreign journals.

Justice Jain's pioneering and socially relevant contributions in the field of justice are especially worthy of note. He instituted the conception and establishment of e-courts in the states of Punjab and Haryana. His innovative and socially guided move to establish mobile courts under the stated motto of 'Reaching the Unreachable', his concerted campaign against female foeticide, and also his initiatives in the area of environmental protection, are some of the milestones of his career. It is truly an honour to have you in our midst, Sir!

It is with great pleasure that I welcome our Distinguished Guest of Honour, Dr. Baldeo Bhai Sharma, Chairman, NBT. In an illustrious journalistic career, he has been associated in an editorial capacity with prestigious dailies such as Dainik Bhaskar and Amar Ujala. He has published numerous articles in prominent newspapers on a wide range of social issues. A writer, thinker and social worker, he is the recipient of many honours for journalistic excellence. He has also been associated with Akashwani through its various programmes. As someone at the helm of an organization that spreads the culture of reading, his presence here carries special relevance, resonating as it does with our own efforts to foster the love of learning and books.

The challenge that confronts educational institutions in a world where there is veritably an information boom, where the internet can bring worlds of learning to one's doorstep, is to both incorporate these new technologies into our pedagogical practices and also optimize on the factors that make an educational institution more than an information-dispensing tool. Through innovative project topics that encourage students to learn and apply their minds to critical and practical life strategies and solutions, with the latest technologies at their disposal, through ICT enabled learning spaces, and by encouraging multimedia presentations, our college is moving towards partaking of the new models of teaching and learning.

Our college has taken a great leap forward in the technological advancements in higher education with the introduction of RFID cards for all transactions inside the premises, making it the first college in Delhi University and perhaps in India to go cashless prior to de-monetization. These cards give an identity to all students and also allow them to do cashless transactions within college. The college boasts of its own mobile app, digital display boards, interactive smart boards, information Kiosk strengthening its asset base in different areas.

We are equally cognizant of the other ways in which the institution becomes a dynamic space - and here one cannot over emphasize the role of dialogism as an integral part of the teaching-learning process. It is the invigorating energy of the interaction that permeates the space of the classroom in which the distinctiveness of the college's teaching ideal lies. The library of the college perhaps best exemplifies the institution's intellectual ethos. It gives me great pleasure to report that the library has been fully automated and that students and faculty have electronic access to all relevant journals. At the same time, one of the highlights of this year, particularly vis-à-vis the library, was the first ever Book Fair, organized in the college. The eager response it drew in itself demonstrated how the digitalized word needs to be counterbalanced with the enduring power of print. Thus, finding the right balance between the world of online resources and the personalised, stimulating, communication between educator and learner is the way forward for institutions today.

In stating the vision of the college, the importance is given to empowering our girl students would indeed be uppermost. The name of the institution, as encapsulating the spirit of valor embodied in the pioneering female figure from where the name has been derived, itself resonates with a trailblazing purposiveness. The college remains committed to performing its role to this end in all its multiple dimensions - equipping the students with the multiple skills.

Academically our college has done consistently well and the results are more than satisfactory. Third year students did remarkably well. 100 percent of the students passed in Final Year B.A. English (Hons); 99.2 percent students passed in B. Com (Hons) and 98 percent of the students passed B.A. Sanskrit (Hons); more than 90 percent of the students have passed in various courses.

The many societies of the college further endeavour to sharpen the creative and critical skills of the students. The Placement Cell works towards enabling and empowerment of our girls. I would like to mention here that the Placement Cell very recently christened itself 'Wings'- an apt metaphor for our concerted efforts to steer and propel the aspirational ascent of our students. The campus placements have been very encouraging, Genpact selected thirty-eight students, Tata Power Delhi Distribution Limited selected six students, and sixty-five students were shortlisted for internship/placement by Aditya Birla Financial Services

The learners have been given the chance to go beyond their curriculum and opt for Add-on courses such as Women and Legal Literacy (WLL) in collaboration with Delhi State Legal Services Authority (DSLISA), International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and Indian Accounting Standards (IndAS) course in collaboration with Ernst and Young, one year certificate course in Chinese language (CP-I), one year certificate course in Japanese language (JP-I) in collaboration with the Department of East Asian Studies, Delhi University and many more.

As Amartya Sen notes, "Imparting education not only enlightens the receiver but also broadens the giver". To broaden the horizons of higher learning, the IQAC organised a seven days Faculty Development Programme for teachers, on "Innovative Teaching, Learning, Evaluation & Research in Higher Education" a first in the history of LBC. A two Days Workshop on "Capacity Building for Non-Teaching Staff" for office and accounts and One Day Workshop for capacity building of Library staff was also organised.

From the field of sports in Inter-College competitions, Lakshmibai College has emerged as a Champion in seven games including Athletics, Cross Country, Baseball, Softball, Power-lifting, Weight-lifting and Yoga and got 2nd position in nine games i.e. Archery (Compound), Archery (Recurve), Boxing, Cricket, Judo, Kabaddi, Kho-Kho, Taekwondo and Wrestling aspiring for VC trophy of the year. Individually, we have won a total of 51 medals including 20 gold, 16 silver and 15 bronze medals.

Our girls have done equally well in NCC, NSS and in other activities leading to their holistic development.

An alumni meet was organised on 26th March 2017, to have an interaction with them and get constructive feedback for the institution's growth. The office bearers were elected in the meet. A Parent teacher meet was also organised during the year to interact with the parents.

With great pride, I announce that our college has won many laurels and accolades this year. Prominent among them are the Green Campus Award conferred on us by WAGE, 3 of our students selected among 334 best VISAKA volunteers across the country, based on their performance. Lakshmibai College was the only college from DU finding place among 400 institutions.

The college also cohosted an International Peace Conference on Youth and Women with the South Korean organization, International Women's Peace Group at Jamia Milia Islamia. A Peace Forum was launched on the National Youth Day on January 12, 2017.

We were the only college in Delhi University who ventured to organize a one week long Camp for our students on the occasion of International Yoga Day. During the camp, students were not only trained to follow Yoga Protocol but they learnt to work for the society also. The camp was held in collaboration with Gandhi Peace Foundation, New Delhi and respected Bhajji, Sri S. N. Subbarao stayed with the participants all four days, in the college premises and motivated them. The Youth Camp which came to end on 21st June 2016 with a valedictory session held at Keshavpuram in a public park imparted a clear message of national integration to the masses.

As I read the report, what echoes in my ears is the buzz of purposeful activity that precedes the annual day celebrations serving as a preamble to the many programmes national and international academic discourses, intercollegiate debates, quizzes and fun activities during departmental carnivals, organized year round in the college. That perhaps is the hallmark of the robust life of any institution - its collective life, finding fullest expression in the throbbing excitement and energy of many minds, many hands, working together towards a common goal.

A two-day health checkup camp and a Blood Donation Camp were organised as CSR-Initiative of the college. As health and hygiene are of utmost importance, we have created an environment, where sanitary napkin is no longer a taboo in the college. We are in the process of installing vending machines, with a view to providing low cost sanitary napkins as our in-house product. The installation of electric incinerators in washrooms for hygienic disposal of the napkin waste has also been planned accordingly.

We are also in the process of installing solar power grid in the college as a move towards energy conservation. We have already changed all CFL bulbs to LED. The Green Campus Award itself speaks of our valuable environment friendly initiatives and concerns. Keeping in view the good governance, we have recently initiated a system of online maintenance of Service Book and leave records for all our employees with online application and its approval.

All these efforts also in sync with our endeavour to expand the space of learning beyond the confines of the classroom - to accord students, a participative and organizational role in the activities of the college. As I enumerate the significant milestones of the academic year 2016-17, this thought is a pleasant reminder of how the pulsating energy that runs through the corridors as a build-up to such events is equally one of the institution's parameters of success. With that heartening thought, it is my privilege to highlight the achievements of the year.
